“Professionals within the information security management field find great value in the CISM credential. The CISM credential measures expertise on the subjects of information security governance, risk management, information security program management, information security management and response management. It distinguishes you among other candidates in the information security field, and it appropriately identifies you as having the knowledge and expertise required to get the job done effectively.”

David Simpson, CISM, CISA
Managing Director, CQR Consulting, Australia

Course Focus and Features:

This three-day course focuses exclusively on the essential areas covered in the Certified Information Security Manager Exam™. The review course covers the core sections and a series of sample exam questions that provides participants with a "feel" of the format and the types of questions encountered on the CISM exam. The correct answers of each question are also reviewed for a better understanding of expectations of the ISACA Certification Board. This intensive course is an ideal way to prepare for the exam. Participants gain valuable experience reviewing these core sections and answering sample exam questions with an experienced instructor while strengthening their skills and building confidence.

Who Should Attend:

Chief Information Officers, Chief IT Security Officers, and Security Professionals who are taking or considering taking the CISM examination; anyone seeking an overall understanding of essential IT security risks and controls. The Certified Information Security Manager is ISACA's strong credential earned by security professionals. It is for the individual who must maintain a view of the "big picture" by managing, designing, overseeing, and assessing an enterprise's information security. For more information on the CISM certification, refer to <http://www.isaca.org/cism>.

What You Will Learn:

Chapter 1: Information Security Strategy (21%)

Establish and maintain a framework to provide assurance that information security strategies are aligned with business objectives and consistent with applicable laws and regulations.

Chapter 2: Risk Management (21%)

Identify and manage information security risks to achieve business objectives.

Chapter 3: Information Security Program Management (21%)

Design and develop an information security program to implement the information security governance framework.

Chapter 4: Information Security Management (24%)

Oversee and direct information security activities to execute the information security program.

Chapter 5: Response Management (13%)

Develop and manage a capability to respond to and recover from disruptive and destructive information security events.
